

2019 TRADESHOW ANNOUNCEMENT

The 2019 Annual Professional Biology Conference and AGM
May 10, TRU Conference Centre, 805 TRU Way, Kamloops, BC.

The Association of Professional Biology is pleased to host the 2019 Annual Professional Biology Conference and AGM at the TRU Conference Centre, May 10, in Kamloops, BC.

To celebrate our 40th AGM, the exhibition will be setup in the beautiful Rotunda, a unique space for tradeshow and cocktail receptions. The exhibition will run all day, concurrent to the plenary sessions, and carry on with the APB Social & Auction from 4:30 pm to 6:30 pm on Friday May 10.

This year 2 styles of booths are offered to accommodate the room's features: The full-size 8' x 8' booth, and the half booth with a table and drape backdrop only. Please see details on the attached reservation form.

Conference theme: "Resilience in Practice"

Species at risk, population declines, ecosystem functions, economics, and science... where should we be putting our efforts?

A goal of this year's AGM is to invite speakers to talk about the different priorities and approaches that are being advocated by government that, in turn, frames how we respond as a profession. Species at risk are a legislated priority, but what about the common species whose populations face continued decline? What about migration? Fish passage through culverts has been restricted as much as the migratory pathways of amphibians are being fragmented by the construction of roads.

Please visit the APB Conference webpage for more details (www/professionalbiology.com).
